GETAWAY DAY AT JUAREZ

WINTER MEETING OF 123 DAYS WILL COME TO A CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON.

All Records Broken for Duration of Season at Mexican Course—Improvements in Prospect for Next Winter.

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—The reason for the extension of the Juarez meeting, which will close tomorrow at the end of 123 days of racing, can in large measure be attributed to the interruptions of the meeting because of bad weather conditions during the past winter. The winter just ended was the most unpleasant at various intervals ever experienced here and its like may never be seen again.

The present meeting has extended over a greater number of racing days than that of any winter season of the sport since the Oakland track, in California, closed. The first meeting at the Juarez track in 1909-1910 ran for 82 racing days, and since there has been no meeting that has not covered more than 100 racing days. The meeting just closed has broken all records and horsemen have again been shown that the management of this course will do everything possible to make things satisfactory all around. Next season such difficulties as have arisen during the present meeting will be overcome. The track improvements soon to be undertaken will obviate the necessity of postponements such as occurred this season and when the sport is resumed next Thanksgiving day the course will be in such shape as to permit racing even after the heaviest rains and snows. The season has been a financial success for the club, but the bookmakers are heavy losers.

In reviewing the meeting about to close, the work of Harry F. Hirsch, in the capacity of assistant to manager M. J. Winn, merits more than passing mention. He has invariably discharged his duties with the spirit that tomorrow would be better than today and no matter how dark the outlook appeared, especially when the suspension came, he has always been optimistic. Then he took charge entirely when Manager Winn was compelled to leave. He has not overlooked a single detail and has undoubtedly made many new friends here this season. He has demonstrated an ability to conduct a race meeting successfully whenever it is necessary for Manager Winn to leave him in charge, and in common with the manager and president of the Jockey Club Juarez, he enjoys the good will of all horsemen who have raced here this winter.

Eugene Elrod is another of the hard workers at the track who deserves praise for his conduct of affairs in the betting enclosure and all its adjuncts during the long meeting. He has not missed a single race during the 123 days of the sport and he will return to Kentucky in the best of health to take up his duties there in charge of the administration buildings and the pari-mutuel machines operated on all the courses of the state. He has had more experience in connection with the pari-mutuel betting system than any man now on the race tracks, his first service in this respect dating back to the early eighties. Mr. Elrod is also one of the most expert calculators connected with racing and can discern at a glance a mistake made by any man working under him in any capacity. During his service on the tracks his ability in this respect has saved the courses with which he has been connected many thousands of dollars and is known as the edge of human nature has enabled him to pick the right men for positions of responsibility and trust under him.

All of today's races carried selling conditions. The fields were comparatively small, and still the talent found it difficult to select the winners. Zenek and Art Rick being the only favorites that succeeded in scoring. With the exception of Marie Coghill, all the other winners were second or third choices, however.

Several horses have been purchased by W. A. Brown, of Oklahoma City, for breeding purposes, and they were shipped there today. Among the lot are Sahville, Sly Sal, Elsie Green, Laelia, Moorewood, Miss Boo, Winifred D. and Trojan Belle.

ROBERT BRADLEY IN GOOD TRIM.

Works Mile and a Quarter Over Lexington Track in Preparation for Camden Handicap.

Lexington, Ky., April 10.—W. R. Mizell's Robert Bradley, in preparation for the Camden Handicap, this morning worked one mile and a quarter in 2:10, over the Kentucky Association course. He had up more than the 110 pounds he has been allotted for the Camden and his move was impressive. This is the first trial this year in Kentucky at the distance.

Mose Moore's colt, candidate, Booker Bill, ran a mile in 1:22 in the face of a strong wind and in a swirl of dust that was at times blinding. It was under these conditions, also, that Senator Camden's Oaks candidate, One Step, ridden by Walter Taylor, worked a mile for trainer Peter Winner in 1:41, equalling Leo Ray's move on Monday, the fastest of the season here. One Step now has earned higher consideration in calculations for the Oaks. Trainer Charles H. Hughes had out three of John H. Stanger's four for their first gallop over the local track. He sent Impression a mile in 1:36, Broom Flower three-quarters in 1:16, and Prince Harry three-eighths in 37.

Other trials worthy of note were: Ais—Three-quarters in 1:16. Bank Bill—Mile in 1:44. Cassowary—Three-quarters in 1:16. Chalmers—Three-quarters in 1:14. Commonada—Three-quarters in 1:16. Hank O'Day—Three-quarters in 1:17. Hawthorn—Half mile in 49. Izzet Bey—Three-quarters in 1:16. Joe D.—Mile in 1:45. La Patrie—Mile in 1:45. Leamance—Mile in 1:44. Leo Skolny—Mile in 1:46. Mabel Montgomery—Mile in 1:45. Mallard—Mile in 1:48. Mockery—Three-quarters in 1:15. Money Maker—Mile in 1:46. Paul Galties—Three-quarters in 1:18. Robert Kay—Three-quarters in 1:15. Star Actress—Three-quarters in 1:16. Tetan—Mile in 1:43. Transmiller—Half mile in 52.

The stables of Tom Brown and M. A. Colton arrived this morning from Louisville. Brown brought Alhambra, Bulgarian, Coppertown, Eustace, Splitit and Endaunt. Colton brought Big Dipper, Blackthorn, Marshion, O'Hagan and Southern Star. Brown has an apprentice rider of some promise in the person of O. Kollock, who weighs 85 pounds. Colton expects to have the services of jockey Clarence Turner for the Lexington meeting.

M. Quisen arrived from Juarez with Romanza and Ha Penny, and is stabled outside of the enclosure.

KENTUCKY DERBY NOT FAR AWAY NOW

Louisville, Ky., April 10.—It is only three weeks from the coming Saturday to the forty-first renewal of the Kentucky Derby, the greatest of all such races decided in America, both in respect to age and general interest.

The Derby this season will be run at Churchill Downs on Saturday, May 8, the opening day of the twelve-day spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club, which will come to a close on Friday, May 21.

The field for this great race bids fair to overshadow any ever before engaged in it. In point of class, the entries for the Kentucky Derby this season will compare favorably with those of any three-year-old stake ever run in America. There are real champions among the eligibles. They represent the stables of turfmen of prominence throughout the country. In other seasons usually a few of the eligibles appeared to outclass the others engaged and in the early spring the wise ones generally have been eager to give their opinion as to the probable winner of the race. If such folks have an opinion of the probable outcome this season, they have refrained from expressing it, which goes to show how open the race is regarded.

The season of 1914 developed many brilliant two-year-olds, and all of these are engaged in the Kentucky Derby, including the champion filly of last year. It is easily to be seen as a consequence the reason no one has been bold enough as yet to come out and predict the winner of the event, as has been the case Kentucky Derby this season.

Before he sold Iron Duke and The Finn to H. C. Hallenbeck recently, J. E. Madden thought highly of his chances of repeating his triumph in the Kentucky Derby of 1898 when he won the stake with his great colt, Plaudit. Besides those named, his eligibles this spring embraced Sam McMeekin, Bill Dudley and Charter Maid, the latter also being eligible for the Kentucky Oaks. Before his sale, Iron Duke was regarded as his certain standard bearer. This slashing chestnut colt only ran once last season and won like a crack. During 1914 Mr. Madden was offered $20,000 for this colt and when the youngster was in quarantine in Ohio last fall with the rest of his eastern racing string, it was no secret that Mr. Madden told many of his friends that the government could hold the rest of the horses as long as they wished in Ohio, if the authorities would only let him ship Iron Duke to Hamburg Place. This goes to show how highly he regarded his unbeaten youngster at that time and from all reports no colt entered in the Kentucky Derby this season could hold the rest of the horses as long as they wished in Ohio, if the authorities would only let him ship Iron Duke to Hamburg Place. This goes to show how highly he regarded his unbeaten youngster at that time and from all reports no colt entered in the Kentucky Derby this season could hold the rest of the horses as long as they wished in Ohio, if the authorities would only let him ship Iron Duke to Hamburg Place. This goes to show how highly he regarded his unbeaten youngster at that time and from all reports no colt entered in the Kentucky Derby this season could hold the rest of the horses as long as they wished in Ohio, if the authorities would only let him ship Iron Duke to Hamburg Place.

Unless Lindenthal shows the form as a three-year-old as trainer J. F. Schorr expected him to last season when he first sent the son of Star Shoot to the post at Lexington, it is safe to say that the Kentucky Derby starter from the Schorr stable will be that sturdy colt, Ed Crump, which last season on several occasions exhibited marked indications of being a stayer. The Memphis turfman has Geo. Roesch, Star Shooter and Goldcrest Boy also engaged in the big race, but no one of this trio was anything near in racing ability last season to Ed Crump. The closest J. W. Schorr ever came to winning a Kentucky Derby was in 1898, when he furnished the favorite in Leiber Karl and Plaudit beat that colt in the rich stake, as well as in the Clark Stakes a few days later at the same meeting. Mr. Schorr had no starter in the Derby last season, but he sent Leochares to the post in the classic of 1914. While leaving Douglas Park on the morning the Derby of 1914 was run trainer Schorr remarked to T. P. Hayes, who was sending his colt Donnell over to Churchill Downs for the race, "Well, Hayes, we are two fools in starting in the Derby. We surely have no chance and one of us will run last and the other next to last." Striking, indeed, was the victory of Donnell over Ten Point and Gowell that afternoon, but Schorr was right about Leochares, as that gelding ran absolutely last.

Donnell is the rankest outsider that ever won the Kentucky Derby. His odds in the race were over 91 to 1, which showed that the public shared with trainer Schorr his opinion of the Hayes' representative in the race that afternoon. The son of Metice, however, ran an unexpectedly good race, not unlike that of Sir Bevis in the Epsom Derby of 1879, when that 100 to 1 shot beat out Palmbecker, Visconti, Cadogan, Rayon d'Or and the winner of the 2,000 Guineas, Charibert. In the St. Leger, Rayon d'Or proved the superior to Sir Bevis and was later on brought to this country by the Pennsylvania turfman, W. L. Scott, and in the stud got scores of stake winners, including the mighty Tenney, the Futurity winner Chas. and Banquet, winner of $118,555 in stakes and purses.

Secretary H. C. Applegate will have the Churchill Downs' program book ready for distribution as early as possible and at the latest it will be in the hands of horsemen during the first week of the coming Lexington meeting. The array of purses to be hung up by the New Louisville Jockey Club this spring is unusually liberal and will furnish an attractive setting to the rich stakes to be run during the twelve days of racing, these embracing, in addition to the Derby, with its $10,000 in added money, such fixtures as the Clark Handicap, the Kentucky Oaks and the Frank Fehr, Bashford Manor, Debutante and Juvenile Stakes.

M. J. Winn, manager of the Downs' course, is now at home and is personally looking after the extensive improvements which are being pushed to completion at the big plant. While in New York recently, he saw many prominent eastern turfmen and every one of them assured him that they would be in Louisville this spring for the running of the Kentucky Derby. A number of them, in fact, have engaged boxes for Derby Day and the remainder of the Churchill Downs' meeting. It will surely be a remarkable twelve days of racing at this track this spring, with such a feature to draw the public as a Derby which promises to overshadow all races for three-year-olds run in recent years in this country. The Kentucky Derby, with its wealth of sentiment, is the strongest drawing card of any race now run in this country and will be particularly attractive this season on account of the wonderful array of entries made for it. With the grounds now arranged to accommodate more people than ever before and the usual free field prevailing on that day, it is safe to say that the big race on May 8 next will be witnessed by the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a contest between horses in this part of America.

Woodford Clay came over from Paris this morning and inspected the horses French Brooks is training for him. Nothing has been asked of the youngsters in this string.

Judge William H. Shelley went over to Louisville to spend Sunday with his family.

Price McKim, who is a brother to Fayette, accompanied by Matt J. Winn, arrived here this morning from the east and went at once to Kingston Farm to have luncheon with Miss Elizabeth Dainfield, manager of the establishment, and they spent the afternoon looking at the stallions, mares, yearlings and foals.

Superintendent James P. Ross today received instructions to have ready by next Thursday twelve stalls for a division of the Quincey Stable, which is coming to the Kentucky Association course in charge of Harry F. Hirsch. They will leave New York next Wednesday.

The following recent foalings at August Belmont's Nursery Farm were reported today: Linda Stone, bay filly by Trap Rock; Peccadillo, chestnut colt by Trap Rock; Chinkara, bay colt by Hastings; Buzsise, bay filly by Hastings; Ninevah, chestnut filly by Fair Play; Olympia, chestnut filly by Hastings; Job Lot, chestnut filly by Fair Play.

The foals of this week at Wickliffe Stud are: Rubia Granda, bay colt by Ulinus; Idle Tale, chestnut colt by Ormondale; Chaucery, bay filly by Ulinus.

Recent foals at John H. Morris' Bosque Bonita Farm, the present home of Plaudit, are: May Morris, chestnut filly by Burgomaster; Elizabeth B., bay filly by Burgomaster; Ellerdie, chestnut filly by Burgomaster; Foremost, bay filly by Burgomaster; Andragosa, bay filly by Ben Trivato; Topsy Over, bay colt by Burgomaster; Starry Night, bay colt by Peter Pan.

Starry Night was sent this week to Harry Payne Whitney's Brookdale Farm to be mated with Broomstick. Kenneth Alexander is her owner.

Mary Ames (dam of Louise S.) died while foaling a chestnut filly by Burgomaster, which also died.

Dr. J. C. Carriek's Bononi has a chestnut filly by Sweep, O. D. Randolph's Josie Cohan (half-sister to McChesney), a bay colt by Sweep, Dr. James Shannon's Maid of Fortune a chestnut colt by Popo O'Day, and James T. Looney's French Nun a bay filly by Magazine.

RACING GOSSIP FROM THE EAST.

New York, April 10.—The ranks of thoroughbreds stabled at Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay will be greatly depleted within a week by departures for Kentucky and Havre de Grace. James Fitzsimmons, whose stable is the largest at Gravesend, will ship twenty-seven to the Maryland course on Sunday. These racers are the property of the Quincey Stable, Herbert L. Pratt and J. E. Davis. Twelve of the number are two-year-olds and Fitzsimmons plans to give them their education over the southern tracks. Joe McCabe and Charlie Burlingame are at the course each morning galloping the Fitzsimmons charges and, in addition to these experienced boys, he has McKeever (whose apprenticeship will shortly expire), Moxan and Brennan, racingmen well known to Kentucky with the western division of the Quincey Stable. Rowan and Brennan are apprentices, and it is the intention of Fitzsimmons to give them a chance to prove their worth early in the season.

W. T. Anderson has eleven stabled at Gravesend, the stars of the string being Ten Point, A. L. Astre's good sprinter. Several of the number are on the ailing list and, with a few of the two-year-olds, will remain behind when the shipment leaves for Havre de Grace. Ten Point is eligible for the Harford Handicap, which will feature the opening day's card at the Maryland track. He is being sent along with this stake in view and is regarded as a sure starter.

Price McAlight will leave Gravesend with four Ormondale two-year-olds for Belmont Park a few days later. These youngsters are not expected to face the starter before the New York season opens. Beau de Menlo, a son of Belle of Palo Alto, and Aunt Julie, a daughter of Legare, are considered the best of the quartet.

G. M. Langdon has been going along easily with Addie M., and does not expect to send her to the post before the Belmont Park meeting. This filly raced exceedingly well last year and carried the silks of J. W. Messervy to victory in the Alabama Stakes and Hindoo Handicap. She is at Gravesend to Roamer to stretch his neck to get home in from in the Municipal Handicap. She wintered well and is looking fit.

Matt Allen is also taking things easy with Magnet and does not expect to start this four-year-old before Belmont Park. Jack McInnis has Sam Jackson, the Saratoga Cup winner of 1913, back in training, but he will not face the starter until late in the season.

The recent heavy snow storm did not set the horsemen at Gravesend back much. Their charges remained under cover on Saturday, but were galloping in the open the following day. Roamer splashed his way through the snow on Tuesday, going five furlongs in 1:10. He shows improvement every day and seems to thrive on work.

J. J. Mulrenan has four thoroughbreds at Gravesend. He is partial to Sassini, a bay two-year-old by The Picket-Queen. This youngster was purchased at a low figure as a yearling last fall and has shown exceedingly well in his trials. Another member of the string is Slide Show, a three-year-old son of Celt and Nimone. Accordingly he is a half brother to Ringling, which raced well for the Beverwyck Stable.

August Belmont has not fully decided to ship his thoroughbreds to Havre de Grace, and they may not go south until the Pimlico meeting. High Horse, a brown son of Hastings and Hantessa II., appears to be the most forward of the youngsters and one that should race well at the early meetings.

Louie Martine is another owner who will not send his racers to the barrier before the New York meeting. He has several good prospects, but it is doubtful if any of these will equal the record of Ivalbel, a speedy plater which bore the Martine silks several years back. This mare was a daughter of Ogden and Ivory Bells, and was bred by J. E. Madden. When her dam foaled Old Rosebud that youngster turned out to be Martine at a low figure. He developed into one of the best racers of recent years. Ivalbel was sent to the stud last year.

WRACK'S SECOND NEWBURY SPRING CUP.

London, England, April 10.—At the Newbury meeting today the Newbury Spring Cup of 1,000 sovereigns, at a mile, was won by Lord Rosborough's six-year-old bay horse, Wrack. Robert le Diable—Sampshire, with P. Nelke's six-year-old bay horse Outram, by Delhi—Gingham, second, and E. Hut-ton's four-year-old chestnut colt Woodwild, by William the Third—Wood Daisy, third. Wrack won the same race in 1914.

KEEPS RIGHT ON WINNING

STAR GIFT SCORES HER THIRD SUCCESSIVE VICTORY OF SEASON AT BOWIE.

Star Shoot Mare Carries Colors of Palace Stable Successfully in Maryland Selling Handicap—Joe Deibold Repeats in Belvidere Hotel Handicap.

Baltimore, Md., April 10.—Star Gift, from the Palace Stable, scored her third consecutive victory of the season when she accounted for the Maryland Selling Handicap, the feature event of a well-balanced card at Bowie this afternoon. Schuttinger, who had the mount, sent the daughter of Star Shoot to the front when the stretch turn was reached and she drew away at the end. Briar Path and Squeeler were placed behind her. The winner was well supported by the talent.

Summer-like weather, coupled with a good card, brought out a record attendance to the course. The victors were well paid as the sport was wholesome and thrilling throughout. Form students had another off day, only two pronounced choices being numbered among the winners.

The Belvidere Hotel Handicap, which divided the honors with the feature race, resulted in a driving finish in which Joe Deibold, showing a return of his old speed, disposed of his opposition in the final quarter and scored over Cello, Isidora and the others engaged in the race. Corey dropped him in behind the pace forced by Cello and Brave Commander and saving ground on the turn, he closed stoutly.

Louis Garth's Rosewater and Bob Redfield supplied some excitement in the opening dash when the two came to the finish noses apart. The outcome remained in doubt till the official placing was displayed. Scratches reduced the second field greatly. J. B. Harrell was installed the popular choice and his failure to place was a hard blow to the talent. Joe Knight was returned the winner. Yodeling repeated his victory of Wednesday over a good lot.

Joseph Marrone came over from New York to witness the running of the day's card.

C. W. Primrose purchased Aviator from R. I. Miller today.

A. C. Blakeley will be shipped to Havre de Grace at once.

Jockey Eddie Taplin arrived from Havana this morning and reported to H. G. Bedwell.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, and his bride, were among the visitors at the course today.

J. J. O'wiler shipped his string from Havana to Havre de Grace.

E. H. Garrison has signed jockey Corey for the season.

Warren Freeman, with the string of jumpers in the stable of Ambrose Clark, arrived at Pimlico this morning. F. Devers arrived at the same course with the stable of E. F. Whitney.

THOMAS WELSH IS HEARD FROM.

New York, April 10.—"Tom" Welsh, one of the best-known trainers of horses on this side of the Atlantic, and who at present is in France looking after a string of horses belonging to American owners, in a recent communication to Andrew Miller, says in an emphatic way that there will not be a race run in France until every German has been driven back into his own country.

Welsh is within thirty miles of the firing line, being located on the Chantilly course. "We can hear the guns rattling every minute," says Welsh, "and have gotten so used to them that we get homesome when they are silent; in fact, I can't sleep unless I get one of the stable help to throw bricks at the wall of my house and beat the doors with a bale stick every few minutes. But we are pretty comfortable. The horses are getting enough to eat, and there has been but little rise in the price of commodities, so we cannot complain much."

After commenting upon the nice string of horses he has in hand he laments that he will not be over here this year to mix up with the horsemen. He also regrets that both De Coursey Forbes and W. A. Chanler are ill and not likely to be seen around for some time.

Welsh apparently keeps in close touch with doing in this country and is pleased to hear that the prospects are bright for a good racing season, and that the folk on this side of the Atlantic are gradually taking a broader view of horse racing and things in general.

"Welsh has said nothing about his paying us a visit," said Mr. Miller, "but I'll bet a bottle of 'Roamer' that he would be tickled to pass a month with us in Saratoga, and I am sure all the knights of the round table would be glad to entertain him. I shall write him to that effect and maybe if there is no racing in France he may decide to drop in on us in August."

FUTURITY WILL BE MORE VALUABLE.

New York, April 10.—Although it has not been definitely decided just where the Futurity will be run this year, it will have a greater value than in 1914. Victor Schumacher, secretary of the Coney Island Jockey Club, said today that the 1915 running would be worth approximately $25,000 to the winner, while when Trojan won for the Quincey stable last year its net value was $16,010.

PROSPECTIVE JUVENILE STARS HERE.

Louisville, Ky., April 10.—Among the ninety-five entries for the Spring Trial Stakes, to be run during the coming meeting at Douglas Park, are some high-class juvenile colts and fillies. The Douglas Park meeting will open May 22 and close June 5. It is quite likely that the Spring Trial Stakes will be run on Saturday, May 29. E. R. Bradley, of Idle Hour Farm, is the heaviest nominator. He has seven named for the stake and, in accordance with custom, all of his horses' names begin with the letter B. Jefferson, Livingston is a close second. He has named six, all imported horses. Mr. Livingston has not chosen names as yet for his two-year-olds. J. L. Holland has five entered for the stake, all by Hillarians and all of them bearing names beginning with the letter I. Every year Mr. Holland chooses a different letter for his two-year-olds and they are always uniform. T. C. McDowell and J. W. Schorr have each four named, while those making three nominations are quite numerous.

Some well-known persons have horses named after them this year. Louisville will have John W. Klein and J. C. Stone in the race. John W. Schorr having named a colt for the former and R. L. Baker for the latter. O. A. Bianchi (Daggie Smith) has a Bearcatcher colt in the race named J. C. Welch, out of compliance to Jack Welch, the third man in the ring in the Willard-Huntley battle at Havana. P. J. Millett has a colt named for Jack O'Dowd, Cincinnati hotel man, and James Everman has named a colt after Mr. Millett himself.

MORE LIGHT ON THE ARKANSAS TANGLE.

Details of the testimony offered at the hearing of the suit of the Hot Springs racing promoters to establish by court action the status of the Sawyer racing commission bill, at Little Rock earlier in the week, are at hand. As previously reported, Gov. W. Hays appeared, and under oath stated that he did not sign the famous Sawyer racing bill. He even went further and stated that it was never his intention to sign the bill in the event it passed the legislature.

His statement the governor was flatly contradicted by Capt. R. R. Rice of Varner, Leo R. Belding of Hot Springs, Frank Kitchens of Helena, Representative Sam Rorex of Dardanelle, Speaker Sawyer of Hot Springs and others. All the witnesses against the governor testified that he promised to sign the measure if it passed the legislature.

According to the witnesses all kinds of trades were made with the governor to pass and defeat legislation pending according to the wishes of the governor. Mr. Belding testified that Governor Hays stated to him that unless he and his associates helped to defeat the primary election bill, prepared by a committee selected by the Democratic state convention, he would certainly veto the racing bill.

Speaker Sawyer declared that he, Capt. Rice, F. F. Kitchens, Mr. Belding and Judge Rolfe were in the governor's office when he signed the bill; that the governor accepted congratulations and every member of the party left the governor's office under the impression that the bill had been approved. He declared that after Governor Hays had given the bill to his private secretary with instructions to have it reported he heard Governor Hays call some person and tell him to tell Mr. Stewart to bring the bill back to his office. He said that Mr. Stewart was gone but a few minutes before he returned and handed the bill to Governor Hays.

Captain Rice declared that through his efforts and the efforts of members of the Hot Springs delegation, "a squabble between Speaker Sawyer and Governor Hays had been straightened out and that Governor Hays led him to believe that if a reconciliation was effected he would sign the bill. He declared that the governor told him that he could veto the bill, but that for reasons he did not want to. He also said that Governor Hays before signing the bill had declared that he felt under obligations to Frank Kitchens and would appoint him a commissioner.

The governor also stated that George R. Belding and Captain Rice were to be the other commissioners and Senator Harris of Clarendon the secretary. The witness stated, Captain Rice said the governor told him on several occasions that he would sign the bill, and with that object in view he and his friends assisted in the passage of bills desired by the governor and fought the measures the governor wanted killed in the legislature.

Governor Hays was on the witness stand twice. He said in substance:

"The Sawyer racing bill came to my office about 4:30 p. m. March 2. The bill was placed on my desk, and the next morning when I came to my office my attention was called to it. Several persons had come to me to prevail upon me to sign the bill, but I had at all times told them that I would not do so.
